LOSFA Lowers Student Loan Cohort Default Rate

BATON ROUGE -- According to figures recently released by the U.S. Department of Education (ED), the Louisiana Office of Student Financial Assistance (LOSFA) has reduced its cohort default rate by 1.2 percent. For the 2008 cohort year, the default rate on student loans guaranteed by LOSFA fell to 8.8 percent, from the previous year's 10.0 percent. The national cohort default rate increased to 7.0 percent (up from 6.7% the previous year) for the same period.

Cohort default rates are calculated annually and are based on the percentage of students who enter repayment and default on their student loans within the first 24 months. The calculation includes students who began repayment on or after Oct. 1, 2007, through Sept. 30, 2008, and defaulted before Sept. 30, 2009.

LOSFA's Default Prevention Section has been a key contributor to this effort, through various default prevention activities. As soon as a lender notifies LOSFA of a delinquency, the first delinquency letter is mailed to the borrower, advising of options available to resolve the delinquency. At least one attempt to contact the borrower by telephone and one letter is generated every 30 days until the account is either resolved or defaults.

Numerous additional efforts are performed in an attempt to make contact with the borrower to advise of the delinquency and to explain the best options available for resolution. During the most recent state fiscal year, these efforts resulted in the prevention of over $616 million in potential defaults.

Borrower awareness is the key to keeping defaults down. LOSFA's Financial Literacy and Development (FLD) section and Public Information and Communications (PIC) division have also played a strong role in helping to lower the cohort default rate.

The LOSFA FLD section provides outreach, training and professional development programs and materials to students, parents, educators and the general public. Those programs include: Financial Literacy for You (FLY) consisting of presentations on credit, banking, money management, credit cards, identity theft, budgeting, debt management, and student loan repayment requirements. FLY presentations are available for college, high school and middle school students, educators and the general public.

The LOSFA PIC division also works diligently to ensure borrower and potential borrower awareness through numerous public information events and activities including financial aid presentations at high schools and middle schools, and Parent Night seminars at various locations across the state. In addition, the PIC division conducts annual Guidance Counselor Workshops, where high school guidance counselors are trained in all aspects of financial aid.
